VETERAN PHYSICIAN PASSES AWAY

Death of Dr. Robert O. Treadwell Occurs This Saturday Morning.

Dr. Robert O. Treadwell, the last survivor of one of Portsmouth's oldest and most distinguished families, died at his home on State street shortly before 6 o'clock this Saturday morning. He was born in this city, the son of David Earle and Ann Odiorne Treadwell on October 31, 1822, his father being a wealthy West India trader. He was educated in the public schools of his native city and at Harvard, attending the medical profession and graduating in the class of 1841. He was the oldest alumnus of Harvard college.

For the next two years he took a special course in medicine in Philadelphia. He studied in Paris for several years and was present at the first administering of ether in that city. He then practiced medicine in this city for ten years.

The desire to see the countries of Europe possessed him and he again went abroad. After traveling extensively he became teacher of languages at the Barcelona University, where he remained for a number of years. He spoke Italian, French, German and Spanish fluently and was also an excellent Latin and Greek scholar. He traveled around the world several times.

While abroad Dr. Treadwell acquired many of the customs prevalent in different countries, one of which he strongly adhered to, that of wearing sandals, and up to the time of his being restricted to his home, could be seen on our streets, on the coldest days, wearing his sandals.

Dr. Treadwell was the oldest mem-

THREAT TO TELL OF THAW'S ESCAPE

Thompson, the New York Chauffeur Held in Canada, Demands Aid Thaws in His Trouble

Sherbrooke, Que., August 22—As a result of threats by Gentleman Roger Thompson, dare-devil chauffeur, and driver of the Thaw automobile to make public the details of Thaw's break for liberty and thereby complicate the legal proceedings for his extradition, it became known tonight that a quarrel between the fugitive and the men who accompanied him had led to his capture.

Insistent demands for money have been made by Thompson for his part in engineering the escape, and the inability of Thaw to supply funds, asked brother members of the party.

Members of the Portsmouth Athenaeum Association and before being restricted to his home by the weight of years was almost daily at the rooms of the association.

His funeral will be held at his late home on Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

STOLE BATHING SUITS.
The summer home of W. H. Chick at Kittery Junction was broken up and entered one day this week. The parties took three bathing suits and two cakes of soap. Articles of value which were in bureau drawers and even exposed about the place were left undisturbed.

PORTSMOUTH PASTOR IS ASSAILED

Boston Man's Attack Causes Uproar at Meeting at Mattapoisett.

Rev. Percy Caswell, pastor of the Court street Baptist church of this city, who had just finished his discourse at the Mattapoisett Baptist church on Thursday evening, was denounced by W. T. France of Boston a summer resident of Mattapoisett.

Mr. Caswell is spending his vacation at New Bedford and for three Thursday evenings has occupied the pulpit of the Mattapoisett church by request. Joseph Sykes of New Bedford, a lay-preacher has previously been conducting the services in Mattapoisett. He is a protégé of Mr. France, who owns most of the news in the church.

Following the service Mr. France was asked if he didn't want to say something. Mr. France rose and pointing his finger at Mr. Caswell shouted:

"That is not a man of God!" proceeding with a vehement denunciation of the minister. The church was immediately in an uproar, the majority siding with Mr. Caswell. Mr. Sykes was seated in one of the pews, and a man in the congregation leaped at him; but just then somebody turned off the electric lights. In the darkness several of the men seized Mr. Sykes and hustled him out of the church, assisting his departure with a kick. After getting outside his trouble increased for some of those who were displeased with him threw stones, and he was compelled to take refuge in the house of Chester France, a relative.

U. S. S. SANTEE NEAR WRECK

Famous Naval Academy Ship Towed Here and Will Be Burned Later.

After an adventurous trip from Hampton Roads in which the crew was one time at the point of abandoning her on account of her condition the United States frigate Santee, a relic of the early navy of the country and the ship on which many of the leading officers of the navy today got their first schooling, arrived at her last berth at the Charles River docks at the Warren bridge, Charlestown, yesterday afternoon.

The ancient ship has for many years been the naval training ship stationed at Annapolis. A week or so ago she put into Delaware Breakwater in a sinking condition, and with no crew on the point of abandoning her. There was six feet of water in her hold. She was pumped out and came under tow, still carrying her small crew.

The Santee, is a relic of the early American navy and was later used as a prison ship and then as a training ship for the Naval Academy. She entered the harbor yesterday in tow of the tug John E. Chandler.

EXPECT CHANGE ON FITCHBURG

As Result of Inspection Trip of President McDonald Over System.

Sweeping changes in the operation of the Fitchburg division are expected to follow an inspection trip in which President Maurice McDonald, General Superintendent W. F. Ray and Chief Engineer A. B. Corbett of the Boston & Maine are now engaged.

The officials are expected to visit other parts of the system as soon as they have examined the Fitchburg division and have made their recommendations for its improvement.

The party left the North station early yesterday and spent a large part of the morning in Fitchburg. They announced that many changes would be made in the passenger station there, but that they did not consider a new station necessary. At noon they left for Greenfield.

HUERTA IS NOW WITHOUT FUNDS

Announcement of Wilson's Special Message to Congress Gives Mexico a Change of Heart

El Paso, Aug. 22—Edward Hays of Buffalo, N. Y., timekeeper for the Mexican Lumber Co., was murdered by Mexican federals under Francisco Cordova in Madero, when they took the town from Pancho Villa's rebels, according to Americans arriving here today. The federals also killed an American negro because he tried to prevent them taking company horses from the corral.

Washington, Aug. 22—The Huerta administration in Mexico may reconsider its rejection of the American proposals to restore peace in Mexico to prevent the house from adjourning and arrange a new basis for negotiations with the United States before next Tuesday. Strong intimations to this effect reached official Washington tonight with the information that the administration was such that a crisis is imminent.

Should the Huerta government decide to enter into a new basis of discussion, withdrawing its contentions as expressed in the Huerta note reply to the proposals communicated by Mr. Lind, President Wilson in all probability will not read his message to Congress on Tuesday.

MARINE IS BADLY BEATEN

Private Hughes of the South-ery Is Now in the Naval Hospital.

Private Hughes, one of the marine guard attached to the prison ship Southery, is at the navy yard hospital in a serious condition. Hughes was found about 9 o'clock on the corner of Water and Newmarket streets, in Kittery by another marine. The man was badly cut over both eyes, and on other parts of his face were the marks of violence. At first it was thought that he had been struck by an electric car but investigation proved that he had been in a row. The yard ambulance was called and removed him to the hospital. The police could get nothing in connection with the affair.

WM. P. PICKETT DIES SUDDENLY OF HEART TROUBLE

Was for Many Years Identified With the Coal Business.

The many friends of William P. Pickett were saddened this morning to hear of his death, which occurred at his home on Pleasant street, shortly before midnight, of heart trouble.

Mr. Pickett had been in poor health for several weeks and had been restricted to his home until this week. He was out on Friday afternoon. He had retired for the night, but was awakened shortly before midnight and soon expired.

He was born in this city and his early education was acquired in the public and high schools of his native place. On leaving school he entered the employ of J. A. and A. W. Walker, the coal dealers, and was held in the highest esteem by his employers. Water Baseball Newest Thing in Aquatic Sports; First Game is Highly Exciting

New York, August 22.—(Water base ball is the latest aquatic sport to be perfected. Of course everybody has seen bathers throw a rubber ball to one another, but a regular game of baseball played in the water is something brand new. The first regulation game was played here by a number of expert swimmers, including Commudore Al Brown, the greatest professional long distance swimmer, and J. Davis Murphy, a French swimmer. The home plate was a floating ring of water in water up to the bather's waist. The pitcher stood in water up to his chest. Second base floating bags in water over the player's head, as were the three outfield positions, where the water was deeper. As these boys were provided with rings for the use of the players. If the batter makes a hit he makes a scramble for first base, then he has to swim to second on a stand or a hit. He is tagged out by the player just as in a land game. The new sport is highly exciting.

CHAMPIONSHIP BASEBALL GAME TODAY

The second game for the Sunset League championship of the state between the Haymakers and the Blues will be played here this afternoon and it looks like a big game. The game is scheduled for three o'clock and a record breaking crowd will be in attendance.

RAILROAD NOTES

A work train will on Sunday distribute coal on the eastern and western routes of the Portland division east of North Berwick.

There is no change in status of the Pennsylvania's electrification projects. The company has been working on these plans for years. The work is still progressing. There has been no drawing of contracts and there can be no action except by the directors.

President Hea is abroad and many directors are out of town, and in any event the plans are not in shape to be presented to them.

As to the question of power nothing definite has been done. The company may furnish its own power or arrange with any one of the four leading electric companies.

The new pipe lines of the water system from Beverly Brook will be put under the Boston & Maine tracks of the southern division on Sunday near Barbary Lane Crossing.

There is under way at the present time a big piece of construction work at Clinton, Mass., which will mean the removal of four grade crossings on the New Haven and one on the Boston & Maine. Clinton is on the Old Colony division of the New Haven which is crossed there by the old Worcester, Nashua and Portland roads of the Boston & Maine.

The main line of the New Haven is now without a single grade crossing from New Haven to New York, a distance of 74 miles, and engineers can pass over this portion of the line without blowing a whistle. This is true of the six track Harlem River branch from New Rochelle to Harlem river.

The radical changes the automobile is making in North Shore circles is very well expressed by the B. & M. decision to remove the little concrete station at Beaver Dam, known as the Bass Rocks station, to New Hampshire. This station has become useless on account of the automobile owners taking a quick cut from Bass Rock through East Main street to Prospect street for the Gloucester depot.

ATTACK ON EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF NEW HAVEN RAILROAD

New Haven, August 22.—A bitter attack on the executive committee of the New Haven railroad by ex-Governor Morgan G. Bulkeley of Connecticut for entering into a contract for placing the $67,552,400 debenture bond issue, by which the house of J. E. Morgan & Co. and the underwriters would get a commission of two and one half per cent, was the feature of the special stockholders meeting to day when the bond issue was approved by a vote of 112,754 to 634.

Ex-Governor Bulkeley fought to have the bonds first offered to the stockholders. He was supported in his argument by A. Maxey Miller and other stockholders, but a resolution to have the bonds first offered to the stockholders was ruled out of order, and C. E. Brooker, the presiding officer announced that the matter was closed.

Howard Elliott, the newly elected president of the New Haven was an earnest listener. Later Mr. Elliott made his first speech to the stockholders and outlined his policy. He welcomed suggestions from the stockholders and sought their cooperation, in helping him to give an administration of economy and efficiency.

In New Haven Interests

Further evidence that the new management will shape its policies to the interest of New England was furnished at a meeting of the directors, when ex-Governor Winthrop Murray Crane of Massachusetts was elected a member of the board of directors, to succeed Denver H. Warner of Bridgeport, resigned, and then there N. Vail of Boston, president of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Co., was made a member of the executive committee.

THAW MAY BUY LAND AND BECOME CITIZEN OF CANADA

Sherbrooke, Que., Aug. 22.—Harry K. Thaw, his case put off until next Wednesday, has been advised by certain of his counsel, it was learned today, to buy property in Canada and take steps to become naturalized as a British subject. Thaw, it was held, would prevent his deportation. The new suggestion and the efforts of the lawyers to arrange to have Thaw deported if deported he must be, to Vermont as the state from which it would be most difficult for New York to recover the fugitive from Mattea-wan, indicates the extent and complications of the fight that will be made to get Thaw free. Thaw's sister, Margaret Thaw Carnegie, and his brother-in-law, George Lauder Carnegie, left Sherbrooke last night, after conferring with lawyers and ascertaining that everything possible is being done to protect Thaw's interests.

Thaw appeared this morning to have spent a restless night. His hair was disheveled, his collar awry and his eyes staring. His breakfast, laid out on a bench for him, had not been touched. He said again that he hoped to be able to give an account of his escape. Today he was jotting down notes on the incidents. He had been supplied with the New York and Montreal papers and apparently read every word bearing on his case. He broke away from his lawyers last night long enough to send a telegram to a friend in Pittsburgh, saying that he (Thaw) had telegraphed through a third party to Ex-Governor Stone of Pennsylvania, asking him to appeal to Secretary of State Bryan in his behalf. Thaw added that he was the victim of some underhand influence from some other state excised to prevent his journeying to his own home.

The "governor" of the Sherbrooke jail laughed today when asked if special guards had been detailed to watch Thaw. He denied that this was true, but it is understood that precautionary measures have been taken at the request of District Attorney Conger of Dutchess County and the immigration authorities.

Thompson's Case Postponed.

The hearing in the case of the self-styled "Mitchell Thompson" arrested by the immigration authorities charged with aiding a lunatic—Thaw—in crossing the Canadian frontier, was postponed today until Friday next. Thompson was arraigned before Police Judge Mulvey shortly after ten o'clock. R. Campbell, acting jointly for the Dominion Department of Immigration and the Dutchess County (New York) authorities asked that the case be put over on the ground that documents had not arrived from Mattea-wan showing that Thaw had been confined there and therefore being per- nent to Thompson's alleged offense. Counsel for Thompson, Louis St. Laurent, associated with Thaw's group of defenders, at first objected to delay but finally agreed to the hearing on Friday, Aug. 23. Thompson came in to court, more or less disguised by a pair of smoked glasses. Pictures of "Gentleman Roger" had arrived during the night, however, and Sheriff Hornbeck of Dutchess County, holding one of these and gazing at the prisoner said: "It certainly is Roger."

Thompson said not a word.

The little courtroom on a floor below the Superior Court where Thaw's habeas corpus hearing is to come up was packed to the doors. The judge disposed of a petty larceny case before taking up the Thompson matter and then listened patiently while counsel wrangled over the date for the hearing. All of Thaw's lawyers were present.

The "inside" motive of the immigration authorities in causing the Thompson case to be postponed lies in the fact that the charge on which he is held is punishable only with a fine. He could pay this at once and decamp for parts unknown. The warrant from Dutchess County, charging him with conspiracy is not regarded as sufficient basis for extradition. To patch up this loophole more time was needed.

POLICE NEWS

There were eight men of various ages, mostly hoboes, locked up at the police station last night, as a result of the activity of the police in rounding up all hoboes found about the city. Two were brought in by Deputy Sheriff Leach of Kittery, who found them on the Kittery bridge. These two are suspects for the break made in Kittery and Elliot. The others are just tough looking young men who were found about the city with no visible means of support.

John Camuso was arrested Friday charged with assault on Charles Mar- ratta on Market street. He was later released on bail.

The reflection of a big forest fire in the direction of York was plainly visi- ble in this city on Friday evening. The fire proved to be in the woods be- tween York and South Berwick and it was still raging and in a dense growth and destroying many thou- sands dollars worth of standing timber.

Marilla Again Heard From.

Mrs. Marilla M. Ricker of Dover, who of late has not been heard of so often, owing to the inactivity of her press agent, again came into the limelight this week when she paid her taxes to Dover's tax collector. On her visit to the tax collector's office she left a written protest which was as follows:

"To whom it may concern: I, Marilla M. Ricker, as usual pay my tax under protest. Women are taxed, put in prisons and hanged under the laws. Now shouldn't they have a voice in making them? Answer me that! Church and State in this country are legally divorced, the State allows the Church to hold property without taxation, so every person who pays taxes is taxed just so much more to make up the deficiency by the evasion of those who hold property and yet pay no taxes. The Church property in this country that goes untaxed has an assessed valuation of over five thousand million dollars. Is it any more honest in the owners of this property to refuse to pay taxes for the support of the government whose protection it enjoys, than for an individual who owns property to refuse to pay taxes on the ground that he or she is a good person and exerting a helpful influence on the community? When women have the ballot and church property is taxed, I'll pay my taxes without protest."

It would seem as though Tax Collector Morrison, after receiving such a manifesto as this, was a very hard hearted man to extract taxes from Mrs. Ricker.

The Death of William P. Pickett.

That was indeed a sad blow to the hosts of friends of William P. Pickett, when they learned of his sudden death this Saturday morning. He was about the street on Friday lifting himself out for a vacation in the mountains. How true it is—in life we are in the midst of death. "Billy" Pickett, as he was known by the hundreds, yes thousands, was of the type of man that never did anyone a wrong. He was of a quiet and even disposition, a pleasure to meet him any time. He was to his men under him a true friend and to his family a prince. The death of such a man as Mr. Pickett is a loss to any community.

The Coming of Firemen's Day.

The local firemen are bringing their arrangements for the big field day and inspection to a successful close and an excellent spirit of co-operation exists among the men. There is no better set of firemen anywhere and it will be an interesting sight to see them on parade once more. It will serve to keep the public and the men as well interested.

Another Distinguished Citizen Dies.

In the death of Dr. Robert O. Treadwell this morning Portsmouth loses one of her honored and most distinguished sons—one of the old school and a man who has been an interesting figure upon our streets for half a century. He was a man of letters and loved old Portsmouth. His death will be learned with deep regret by many of the older people.

BAPPHO

How glad you must be to be at rest, forgetful of him whom you loved so, Of him who loved you not; To leave all the watching and waiting, The hoping and doubting behind you, To know no more of the longing That burned like a fire at your heart!

How glad you must be to lose yourself— Utterly, utterly, Baphho. In sleep, that is sleep indeed!— To turn from the pain and the passion, The dreams of delight that un-wake—ing, But mused you and left you more lonely— The vision that even betrayed!

How glad after all—or, how glad to forget. The golden one, dream Aphrodite— The laughter deceitful and sweet, Wherewith from her own glowing bosom She gave the red rose that consumed you, Whose fire only floods all embracing Could cool as they rocked you in sleep!

Hereafter for others her emblem shall bloom; For others had to be the delusion, The torturing doubt, the despair; But you cradled deep, midst the waters,

Naught hearing of ebb tide or flowing. Your heart pulsing not with their pulsing—

You, Baphho, untroubled shall rest. —Reference: Early Cones in the Minneapolis Museum.

Inquiry Ordered Into Charges of Bad Food Used at Ellis Island Station.

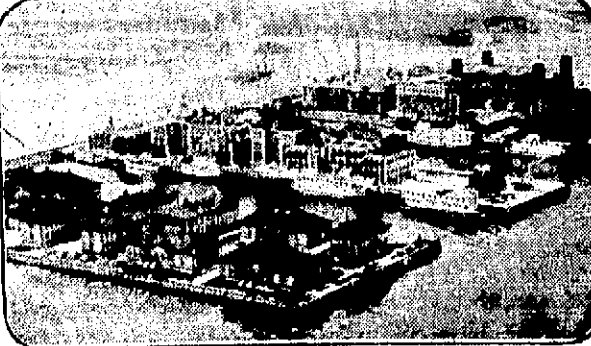

Photo of Ellis Island copyright by American Press Association.

If allegations made by the bureau of municipal research of New York city are true then the hundreds of thousands of immigrants who land at Ellis Island, New York harbor, each year are badly fed. Their first taste of things American is not what they had thought it would be. It is charged that rotten food and meat and bad butter are used for the immigrants. Secretary of Labor Wilson directed an investigation, and United States Commissioner of Immigration Andrew Campbell summoned several immigration officers to look into the matter. The committee was instructed thoroughly to look into the conditions under which the government cares for the immigrants. A picture of Commissioner Campbell is shown, with a landscape view of Ellis Island taken from an aeroplane.

CURRENT OPINION

WOMEN'S DRESS AND ITS EFFECT.

If the effect produced by a woman who appears improperly clothed in public places were confined to her own circle of acquaintances little harm would be done. In fact, familiarity with her real virtues might completely counteract any harmful influence. But, unfortunately, the effect is more far-reaching. Every indication of immodesty on the part of a woman tends to break down in every man who sees her that instinctive respect for the sex as a whole which constitutes its strongest safeguard against insult.

There is little wonder, as has been pointed out so frequently by writers on this subject, that so many women are treated with scant courtesy in public places. The growing disrespect for women is an evil for which they themselves are in large part responsible.

Nor is it an extenuation of the harm that may result to say, as many well meaning women do say, that even though they may adopt the styles that are under criticism, they do not carry them to extremes. By a peculiar psychological process the power of suggestion grows stronger in proportion as the actual reality is kept in the background. When little is left for the imagination to work upon, interest largely falls. When limits are exceeded, the feeling of disgust enters as a saving factor. And so it may well be that the woman who carries her audacity to extreme is doing less real harm than her more conservative sister.

In art, if it is permissible at all to raise the question of morals in art, it is generally recognized that the nude is more moral than the thinly draped figure. And in the real life of human emotions a few inches of well shaped nude showing out from under a flimsy skirt proves more attractive to the spectator than the entire form of the ballet dancer.

It is a rather odd coincidence that this charge should be brought against the sex at the very time when women are showing an aroused interest in social welfare. It is an interesting question whether, because of our quickened social conscience, we have just become more sensitive about an evil already existing, or whether we are face to face with a new situation, the tendency of which is to further confirm our traditional belief in the delightful inconsistency of woman.—Prof. David Edgar Rice, Ph.D., Columbus University, the Distinguished Psychologist.

and has posed as Mitchell Thompson. His attitude has caused Thaw's lawyers considerable uneasiness.

"Sure I'm Roger Thompson," he admitted tonight. "I need money and help and its up to the Thaws. I was farmed up in getting into this case and they've got to stick by me now. 'Here I am jugged for a week or more with a fine staring me in the face. I haven't got a cent. I'm broke. If I were admitted to bail I couldn't raise it, and if they should let me out on bail what would I do. 'I would be arrested if I crossed the New York state line. I suppose if I tell everything there is to know about this trip, the route we followed and 'other things' I'll be jailed, but what's a fellow to do who's broke? I've got to get out of this somehow. 'The other four fellows mixed up in the game made their getaway but I stuck to Thaw to the finish, and I'm the goat. That's pretty hard."

Refuses Details

"What about the details of the escape?" he was asked.

"Don't ask me," said Thompson. "I can't talk about that now."

Thaw in a cell in a corridor above

Gentlemen Roger, refused to admit even that he had ever seen him. "Oh, that man," he exclaimed, "You know I can't talk about him."

Thompson slouched in his cell cost-less and collarless. Counsel has been employed for him by the Thaw family and it was through their efforts that the Thompson arrangement today as a violator of the immigration laws was postponed until Friday next. His lawyer is Louis St. Laurent of Quebec. It was admitted by the chauffeur that the Thaw's had retained St. Laurent and that they expected him (Thompson) to "keep his trap shut." He added grimly that he thought they ought to do more than give him a lawyer.

"All they want," he said "is to keep my case separate from the Thaw's. I wish I hadn't mixed up in it."

Others Not Paid

It is also stated that others besides Thompson were not paid for their trouble, and his accounts for the fact that only two men were with Thaw when he was caught. It was because of his agreement with these men that Thaw boarded a train in New Hampshire instead of coming through by automobile, and it was his presence on the train that led to identification by Deputy Sheriff Keely.

Thaw has told to his counsel that if he had known as much during the preparation of his plans for flight as he knows now he would have made a dash for Pennsylvania instead of choosing the long and roundabout route to Canada and Detroit.

Declare Thaw Sane

Dr. P. J. Austin and Dr. Joseph Emilio Noel, the two physicians attached to the Sherbrooke county jail where Harry K. Thaw is now confined are emphatic in their expressions of belief that Thaw is absolutely sane at the present time.

Each physician has seen Thaw several times have made careful note of his every action, of his talk, and if required to make a formal report to the government authorities, each declares he would report him without the slightest evidence of insanity.

Dr. Austin is a man well along in middle age, a graduate of the Royal Medical College of Aberdeen and McGill University. He has been the jail physician for many years and has seen as he says, hundreds of insanity cases that have come to the jail.

"Mr. Thaw gives absolutely no evidence of insanity," said Dr. Austin to the Journal last night. I have talked with him several times on many subjects. He is nervous but that is perfectly natural for anyone who has been confined in an insane asylum as long as he has, and who has been through what he has. He is well read, talks of present day literary subjects, the latest books, and in no way is his talk illogical.

"He is no more nervous than hundreds of thousands of your American young men, or than thousands of young men whom I know. You Americans are all living a nervous life. Personally I like Mr. Thaw very much. He is very courteous and he talks easily, logically and well. In fact, he perhaps talks too much, but that is only natural, I supposed to a man who has been confined for eight years in a lunatic asylum."

No Evidence of Insanity

"As I say, if I were asked to make a report to the government, I should declare that Mr. Thaw is not insane." Dr. Joseph Emilio Noel, the other jail physician is equally as emphatic in his statements.

Dr. Noel is a graduate of Laval University at Quebec is 30 years of age and is a surgeon, but in his general practice has handled all kinds of

ELLIOTT PROMISES TO SERVE THE PUBLIC

New Railroad Head Makes First Address Before the Stockholders

New Haven, Conn., Aug. 22.—President Howard Elliott's speech to the New Haven stockholders today, the first since his selection to succeed Charles S. Mellen, was as follows:

"On and after Sept. 1, I shall come to New Haven and take off my coat and go to work. I shall endeavor to perfect an organization, if one does not already exist, that will attend closely to all of the details that are so important to you as owners and to the public that the railroad serves."

"The engines on the New Haven road every day run 120,000 miles, or five times around the earth. It means a great deal of attention to have every little detail attended to, but we will try to do it and we will try to see that the scrap heap is picked up and sold, or as is sometimes the case, it is cheaper to bury it than to pay the labor cost of moving it."

"We have had to meet great rate reductions; we have had to meet increased cost of labor, increased cost of material and demands from a luxurious people for better facilities. All of which has created a problem that is most difficult to solve because there are only 100 cents in a railroad dollar, just the same as in any other dollar."

"But it will be my aim to try to see that every dollar received into this company's treasury, whether from earnings for service performed, or from advances by stockholders, or from loans from others, is expended with the greatest care, with the greatest prudence, and that the railroad will be managed solely with the idea of economy and efficiency and safety so as to safeguard your interests, not only now but in the future, because the railroad has got to go on forever and if it should happen that in trying to protect your future there is some disturbance for the present that is something to be patient about. (Prolonged applause.)"

"The stockholders can do a great deal of good, everyone of them in their own circle, in trying to present to their legislators, to the members of Congress, to the members of commissions, and to all who make the different laws under which the railroad is trying to operate, the stockholders can do good by pointing out that there are two sides to this question and that the side of the stockholders must not be lost in considering the question and in making demands upon the railroad that the officers and directors are most anxious to meet if they can; they are torn between trying to protect the stockholders and trying to give the public what they need and should have, but you can do much good by using your influence, each one of you in your own circle, to point out both sides of this question."

"I am very glad, although I am not an officer of your company, to have had the chance to say those few words and I can assure you that at the next meeting of the stockholders, held some time in October, if there is not a room large enough in the New Haven offices to receive you, we will find one where you can say what you want and where the officers of the company will try to tell you to the best of their ability what you desire to know. I thank you very much."

THEATRICAL TOPICS

Boston will be the first city to see "The Merry Martyr," the new musical play based on Leo Brinski's comedy "Nargentanz," written by Glen MacLough, with music by Hugo Riesenfeld. MacLough will play the leading role, a pompous Governor of a Spanish province, and it is whispered that he threatens to sing and to make matters worse, dance the tango. Klaw and Erlanger will make an exceptionally beautiful production of the play and have provided an able cast. During the season "The Merry Martyr" will be seen at one of the Klaw and Erlanger theatres in New York.

The company which Klaw and Erlanger will present in "Milkstones," under the direction of Joseph Brooks, has been organized in London and will sail for New York early in September. Prominent in the cast are Stanley Warrington, Miss Annet Lee, Miss Blanche Ripley, Harold Holland, Miss Sybil Walsh, Cronin Wilson, Miss Marie Hassel, Frederick Lloyd, Miss Florence Burn and Douglas Jeffries. Philadelphia will be the first city to see the delightful Arnold Bennett-Edward Knoblauch play this season, but the tour is to include practically the entire country North and South, out to the Pacific coast and through Canada.

When Otis Skinner, who is appearing in "Kismet" this season, was a young man still in his teens, he firmly made up his mind to go upon the stage, but his father was a Connecticut clergyman and he was firmly convinced that if he ever went on the stage it would have to be without the parental consent. For many months he held off, but one day, with fear and trembling, decided to put the question directly to his father. As he entered the Rev. Mr. Skinner's study he left the door open in case he would have to make a hasty exit.

"Father," stammered young Otis, quaking with fear, "I've decided to go upon the stage."

The old gentleman looked up from the manuscript of the sermon that he was preparing, and adjusting his spectacles said:

"Is that so? Very well, my boy, go ahead. I'm very busy with my sermon just now, so don't bother me with the subject any further."

Otis went and he has never had cause to regret it.

Messrs. Klaw and Erlanger have purchased from Arthur L. Hopkins all his rights and interest in Eleanor Gates' remarkably successful play, "The Poor Little Rich Girl." It will be exploited hereafter under the management of Messrs. Klaw and Erlanger and be sent to the largest cities throughout the country during the present season. The tour will begin on Monday, September 23. "The Poor Little Rich Girl" was one of the notable hits of last season in New York, and Messrs. Klaw and Erlanger will send it out with an exceptionally capable cast.

The company that will appear in "The Winning of Barbara Worth," the dramatization by Edwin Milton Royle of the popular novel of the same name by Harold Bell Wright, has been completed by Messrs. Klaw and Erlanger. It will include as Barbara Worth Miss Edith Lytle, a San Franciscan, who has appeared with marked success in the leading stock companies of the West and last season in the principal role in "The Blindness of Virtue"; Claude Gillingwater, Andrew Robson, James C. Edwards, Richards Gordon, E. J. Hunkahill, Edwin Brandt, Joseph Robison, Roberto DeLeon, Miss Alice Ashe, Miss Dorothy Tweek, Miss Mary Downs, and many others. "The Winning of Barbara Worth" will shortly go to Chicago for a run. Messrs. Klaw and Erlanger are to make an unusually pretentious scenic production of the play.

According to information from the U. S. Engineer's office in Portland just received, the work of removing the ledges in Pepperell's Cove will begin not later than October 16. The contract calls for the excavation of 9000 cubic yards of material and work may be suspended from December until March at the option of the contractor. The newly discovered ledge lying off Pelebees Wharf is estimated to contain 4000 cubic yards, or 1000 more yards than Loggy Ledge which is a great surprise to all the familiar with the Cove. The remaining 2000 yards to be removed are contained in four small shoal spots on the northerly side of the Cove. A depth of 12 and 1/2 feet at low tide will be required in the new contract.

Hearing on Friday Next.

The six men arrested at the Washington navy yard for alleged gambling appear to be all from the machinery division. They gave their names and occupations as follows: Porter P. Paylor, a machinist, 37 years old; Fred Hitchcock, machinist, 49; Charles T. Swan, machinist, 32; Robert L. Pitts, machinist, 41; Benjamin G. Swan, toolmaker, 37; John H. Roberts, toolmaker, 41. They will have a hearing on Friday next and were required to furnish bail in the sum of $1000, partly five witnesses have been summoned.

Still in the Lower Harbor

The report that the survey ship Hamblet would come to the navy ward on Friday afternoon appears to have been incorrect. The vessel will according to the present plans lay in the harbor until some time next week.

POLICE NEWS.

It looked like Old Home Day at police headquarters today after was the dragnet did since the clock struck 2 on Friday afternoon. Up to noon today 41 arrived to join in the festivities and chief Hurley and his committee on arrangements had their hands full, especially in assigning rooms to the visitors. Many of the guests arrived at a late hour especially a party of ladies who placed their names on the register about 3 o'clock this morning. To accommodate the distinguished assembly the bridal chamber on the upper floor and cent storage in the basement were thrown open to the guests.

Not since the days of the Deer street sewer construction, the building of the dry dock and the blowing up of Henderson's Point, has the management of the City Hotel been called upon to entertain so elaborately.

The guests registered as follows: Seventeen under the head of safekeeping; six, statutory offense; one for brawl and tumult; one, assault; two came in under suspicion; and seven had mingled with the multitude that had been engaged in consuming molasses. The bell boys were kept on the rush during the mid-summer rush and their duties were so numerous that they became impatient, and one time threatened to strike.

A number of the guests arranged to meet Judge Torrey this morning who added more to their pleasure by arranging a little vacation through the harvest season at the expense of the county.

Capture Another One

Daniel Cunningham of Lynn was arrested by the police of that city on Friday and held till Deputy Chief Ducker arrives there today to bring him to this city to face the court in connection with the breaking and entering of the store of A.
